

Leave Request Approval Workflow

How a project-appointed staff member's leave request is approved. The simplest of the six requests on the standard office-escalation route — a single signed application is the only document it needs — but it still passes through all seven stages like every other request type.

WHY Even a routine leave request travels the same seven-stage route as a procurement indent — Regular Staff through Dean can only forward it. Keeping one uniform escalation shape across every request type (rather than a shortcut for "simple" ones) means staff learn a single process regardless of what they're requesting.
